BOOK RELEASE

Claudette Cold Bear

Copley, OH, February 15, 2025— A heartwarming new children's book, Claudette Cold Bear by author Irv Korman, is now available for purchase on Amazon following its Valentine's Day release. The story introduces young readers to Claudette, a lovable hairless polar bear cub whose journey of kindness, friendship, and generosity reminds readers of the warmth that comes from caring for others.

Perfect for families, classrooms, and gift-giving, Claudette Cold Bear tells the touching story of a cub born without fur and the compassionate brothers who help her stay warm by sharing something of their own. With gentle humor and an uplifting message about empathy and community, the book encourages children to see the power of small acts of kindness and the importance of looking out for one another.

Irv Korman is an author, entertainment writer, theater critic, actor, clown, and magician. He spent 30 years as a speech and language therapist with Akron Public Schools and later served for 13 years as a Senior Lecturer in the School of Communication at The University of Akron.

An award-winning writer and performer, Irv has received four Communicator Awards for his writing and a Chanticleer Award for his acting. A lifelong resident of the Akron, Ohio area, he holds both a Bachelor of Arts in Speech Pathology and a Master of Arts in Theater from The University of Akron.

Claudette Cold Bear is his eleventh book.
